

ROFRANO'S ALIBIS ARE OFFERED AT CARNIVALE TRIAL

Office Employees Called to Deny Stories of Phone Talks With Accused Man.

Attracted by the announcement that Michael A. Rofrano, Deputy Street Cleaning Commissioner, would be a witness to-day in the defense of Ro-frano Carnivale, alias Rocks Corneli, for investigating the murder of Michael Giamari, one of ex-Sheriff Thomas F. Foley's lieutenants in the Second Assembly District, a large crowd filled the courtroom of the Criminal Term of the Supreme Court, where Carnivale is on trial.

The first witness called by Lloyd F. Stryker, chief of counsel for the defense, to-day was John O'Brien, chief clerk of the Street Cleaning Department, who testified that on Jan. 4, the day Joseph La Salle testified Carnivale discussed the proposed murder of Giamari over the phone from his home in Brooklyn with Rofrano in

YOU CAN DO THIS FOR YOURSELF

Buy the medicine which will relieve pain and leave no injurious after-effects. An unflinching household necessity for more than half a century.

Radway's Ready Relief, for internal and external use, quickly stops pain. Contains no opiates or harmful drugs. A half to a teaspoonful in half a tumbler of water will in a few minutes relieve summer cramps, diarrhoea, spasms, sour stomach, heartburn or nervousness. For external use, no matter how excruciating the pain may be, due to such causes as rheumatism, neuralgia, etc., Radway's Ready Relief affords instant ease.

Keep a bottle in the medicine cabinet. It is a safe and sane preparation alike for children or grown people. 25c and 50c a bottle. All druggists. —Adv.

his office, Rofrano was not in his office.

Borough President Maurice Connolly of Queens testified yesterday that he was with Rofrano in Albany that day. Abraham Paley, employed in Rofrano's law office at No. 184 Broadway, testified that Rofrano was not there Jan. 4.

A diary kept in the law office showed that Rofrano was at his law office the seven times the telephone records produced by the telephone company showed he had been called up in the Street Cleaning Department from Carnivale's home in Brooklyn. Each date and hour in the diary, corresponding to the day and time on the telephone records, was marked "M. A. R."

"Who made those entries?" Justice Davis asked Paley.

"I did," Paley replied, who said that he had written in the "M. A. R." Theresa Mase, a stenographer in Rofrano's law office, corroborated Paley. Rofrano visited the law office infrequently, Miss Mase said, stopping in occasionally for a few minutes. She produced a book containing stenographic notes of letters dictated to her on Jan. 4. Rofrano, as far as her notes showed, was not in the law office Jan. 4.

HOW COULD HE KNOW ULTONIA WAS GUARDED?

The Mate Had Been at Sea a Month, and Shouldn't He Celebrate His Return?

Rumors that an attempt would be made to damage the Cunard Line steamer Ultonia, now taking on a cargo of provisions and horses for the allies, at the company's pier at the foot of West Fifteenth Street, caused two patrolmen to be detailed there last night and others on post in the vicinity were warned to look out for trouble.

First Mate Neilson Bartel of the Norwegian bark Alfrida A., celebrating his return to terra firma after twenty-eight days on the bounding billows, did not know this, and therefore did not hesitate in the enthusiasm of his celebration to draw a revolver and send several shots into the air, accompanied by the whooping of several friends. He happened to see a wild scene in the street, which ended in his being led quietly to the West Twentieth Street Police Station.

WARNS CITY AGAINST BUILDING NEW TUBE

Chairman McCall Enters Opposition to Fifty-ninth Street Tunnel Under East River.

Chairman Edward E. McCall of the Public Service Commission, to-day notified the Board of Estimate that its plan to build an East River tunnel in extending the Fifty-ninth Street cross town subway to the Borough of Queens, is fraught with grave financial consequences to the city. The original plan was to use the Queensboro Bridge across the river.

Chairman McCall's letter is supported by Chief Engineer Graven, who contends that the change may cause an unnecessary expenditure of $6,000,000 and delay the operation of the Dual System in Queens until 1919, two years beyond the present estimate. Mr. McCall states that the Commission will go ahead with the tunnel plans, but the responsibility must rest with the Board of Estimate.

While waiting for the Board of Estimate to make up its mind, the commission will make preliminary arrangements for both bridge and tunnel construction, so as to avoid delay.

HOOPER MUST BEHAVE.

Man Accused by Actress Is Held in $1,000 Bail.

Magistrate Krotel, in the Centre Street Police Court, to-day held Morris Hooper, twenty-two years old, of No. 517 West End Avenue, in $1,000 bail to keep the peace for six months on the charge of disorderly conduct.

Last Saturday night Hooper met Clementine Collins, an actress, of No. 713 West End Avenue, on the street, and induced her to visit his home, where, she asserted, he attempted to attack her. Policemen responded to her cries and found Hooper on the roof. Magistrate Krotel refused to entertain a charge of assault, but held Hooper for disorderly conduct.

Backfire May Cost His Night.

When adjusting an engine in a motorboat at Two Hundred and Twelfth Street, Harlem River last night, Joseph Taylor, twenty-one years old, of No. 2144 Daily Avenue, Bronx, was severely injured when the engine backfired. He was taken unconscious to Washington Heights Hospital with his left index finger torn off, and he is in danger of losing his sight, the doctors said. The boat did not take fire.

LESSER SECOND TO DIE FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

Succumbs Here From Hurts Received When Car Plunged Down Ravine in Pennsylvania.

Walter E. Lesser, thirty-seven years old, manager of the branch of the Stearns Motor Car Company at No. 1759 Broadway, died to-day in the Polyclinic Hospital from injuries he suffered in an automobile accident at Echo Lake, Pa., on Saturday. He had been hurried to this city in a special train with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gedhill of No. 312 West Ninety-ninth Street, who were also hurt in the accident. Louis Levy of New York, the owner of the auto, was instantly killed.

At the Lesser home at No. 501 West End Avenue it was explained to-day that the accident occurred when the first of two autos in the party in crossing a bridge over a railroad swayed to one side and fell to a ravine twenty feet below. Mr. Levy was crushed under the car and was dead when the second auto, in which Mrs. Lesser, among others, was riding, came up.

Mr. Lesser was thirty-seven years old and had been connected with the Stearns Company for ten years. Mr. Gedhill is an importer of liquors and his wife is a sister of Mrs. Lesser.

How to Treat Skin Diseases

Both air and water seem to have a bad effect upon skin diseases like eczema, of which there are many forms. Keeping out the water and air is the first thing to do. By using Cadum ointment for skin diseases, air and water are excluded, because it contains petrolatum and white wax, and these form a tight covering over the sore places upon the skin. Cadum also contains oil of cade, which has been successfully used many years by the medical profession in the treatment of eczema and other skin troubles. If your skin is inflamed, irritated or sore, get a 10c. box of Cadum of your druggist and try it. People who have itched and scratched for years get rest and comfort soon after using Cadum. —Adv.
